

Redacted SSN on ITIN Holder's W-2: What Can We Do?

Background

Beginning in 2020 in order to protect employees from identity theft, the IRS began to permit employers to voluntarily redact (or hide) employees' Social Security Numbers (SSNs) on employee copies of Forms W-2, Wage and Tax Statement. No redaction is permitted to employer or other EINs, or of SSNs on Employer Filings to Tax Authorities.

Redacted SSNs are formatted as xxx-xx-1234 or --1234.

In order to e-file a tax return prepared from a Form W-2 that contains a redacted SSN, the complete and accurate SSN must be entered in TaxSlayer. This information can usually be verified from the taxpayer's SS card or other tax documents. Once the complete SSN is entered, the return can be e-filed as usual.

How to Assist the Taxpayer

If an ITIN holder presents Form W-2 that contains a redacted TIN in Box a that is not the taxpayer's ITIN and is not a SSN issued to the taxpayer, the full SSN must be identified and entered in TaxSlayer in order to e-file the return.

If....	Then enter in the TaxSlayer W-2 screen:	And the Return Type will Be:
the unredacted SSN can be retrieved from: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● the taxpayers themselves ● a prior year tax return ● other tax documents or paystubs 	the full SSN	E-File
you are unable to verify the missing SSN digits	123-45-xxxx where xxxx is the unredacted digits visible on the W-2	Paper

Note: Entering data from a redacted W-2 where you are replacing redacted information with actual information, is not considered a Substitute W-2. Do not select This is a substitute W-2 in TaxSlayer.
